

xunesis.org

is a company of artists and scientists creating passion for science
 through theatre, film and media

We creatively HOW use the latest education techniques and popular media to maximize interest in science topics and new scientific developments.

Original and Adapted Theatre Plays Performance Art Pieces WHAT
 Dramatic Films and Video
 Supplemental Textbook & Classroom Media
 Interactive Museum & Internet Exhibitions

WHERE

Independent Film Venues
 Performing Arts Venues
 University Performing Arts Series
 Educational Television
 Public and Private Schools
 College and University Classrooms
 Museums & Learning Centers

We educate people about science in entertaining ways, encouraging them to integrate new learning with their everyday lives. WHY We believe this will spark imagination and innovation for a better future.

Planning Partners identify potential topics, audiences, and funding sources to bring new projects alive.

Advising Partners represent the forefront of both scientific / artistic thought or practice to approve and ensure all Xunesis projects are scientifically accurate in content and artistically engaging.

Collaborating Partners work together in multi-disciplinary teams throughout research, design and development to create and perform Xunesis projects.

Sponsoring Partners make all these efforts possible through their generous donations of money, services and other resources.

Xunesis (KSOO neh sis; ancient Greek): a coming together, union (as in two rivers converging); intelligence and wisdom with respect to conscience; a branch of art or science.

WHO

Find out how you and your organization can be a part of Xunesis!
 Xunesis is a not-for-profit corporation funded by generous donations from individuals and organizations who value the importance science brings to our world.

xunesis.org
 po box 269187 chicago, illinois 60626 • 312.498.2612

YOU